PREFACE

This book, appearing within two years from the time of the publication of the Fraternity's last Manual and Directory, is issued in contemplation of the adoption of a scheme for biennial editions of the work. In the past the Fraternity has had no established directory policy and for some time members interested in Fraternity affairs have urged the advisability of publishing an edition at fixed and regular periods. It is thought that such a book appearing at intervals of two years will in the long run be a financial economy, a solution of difficulties in the maintenance of membership records, and meet the constant needs of the national organization and of the chapters for up-to-date information. The plan and make-up of the Manual and Directory of 1908 were adopted with the view to having that book serve as the basis for future biennial issues. However, in the resolutions of the last Grand Chapter in Chicago in the summer of 1909 it was not deemed wise at that time "to make permanent provision in the Constitution but rather to postpone final consideration of this matter until at least another edition of the Manual and Directory shall have been issued." The Grand Chapter accordingly authorized the publication of the present volume under the direction of the Grand Council and editorial charge of the Grand Historian, and, as was intended, this book includes all directory data and historical matter for a period ending October 1, 1910.

The style, features, and appearance of the book are similar to those of its predecessor. In fact the type used in printing the 1908 Manual and Directory was purchased and kept standing by the Fraternity and has been again employed, with a number of alterations and additions, in the manufacture of the present volume. Several features have been added and a few changes made in the arrangement of typographical matter.

Besides the directory material a considerable portion of the book is given over to the manual features, including among other things the constitution and constitutional statutes as amended at the last Grand Chapter, and a historical sketch of the Fraternity from the date of its founding. The record of the history of the Fraternity is to be found in serial form in the earlier catalogues beginning with The Catalogue and History of Sigma Chi. That volume presented a full and ample statement of the Fraternity's history to 1890 and the Residence Directory of 1902 and Manual and Directory of 1908 have respectively carried the record forward with inclusive historical articles covering a period in each case from the previously issued catalogue. In continuation of this policy the present volume contains a somewhat detailed record of the Fraternity's activity during the past two years, but it was thought advisable at this time to preface the present chapter with a synopsis of former historical sketches covering the entire period of the Fraternity's existence. The few pages herein given to this purpose are nothing more than an abridgment or abstract of historical matter printed heretofore in other catalogues and in the Chapter Handbook prepared by former Grand Historian Fred A. Perine.

The directory of membership is given by chapters followed by geographical and alphabetical indices. By the arrangement of the chapter rolls according to the Greek alphabetical order, instead of chronologically, it is believed that ready reference is facilitated. In conformity with the scheme used in our other directories, the members of each chapter are given by classes under the years in which they graduated or would have graduated had they completed the courses leading to a bachelor's degree. In a few difficult cases of classification, the names have been left where arbitrarily placed in former editions, usually in the class of the year of initiation.

The plan of this book has made it necessary to limit the information regarding each member as nearly as possible to one line. For our present purpose nothing more than the name, bachelor degree, class, occupation, and address have been considered essential. The scheme used in earlier catalogues of giving rather extensive biographical data has been abandoned in view of our rapidly increasing membership, and to make possible the publication of a directory at short intervals, by reducing the great expense incident to its compilation and manufacture.

The geographical index, arranged by states and cities, gives the names of Sigma Chis located therein, together with their respective occupations, where it has been possible to indicate the occupation as distinguished from the address. The running of occupations in this connection was a feature omitted from the Manual and Directory of two years ago but included here that the usefulness of this volume may be more extended.

The alphabetical index gives the Fraternity's entire membership and is a finding guide to the directory by chapters.

Editorial work was started on the present edition last January and the book will appear within the shortest time required in the preparation of any of our membership directories in the past. That the compilation of information was accomplished within a comparatively short time is due to the ready assistance accorded the editor by Chapter Historians, Secretaries of Alumni Chapters, and hundreds of other Sigma Chis who have generously aided in making the work possible. I am deeply grateful to them all and regret that because of the limited space special mention cannot here be made of the invaluable information supplied by each worthy brother. The Fraternity is indebted to a long list of contributors, and to each of them I extend my personal appreciation of his service.

The total membership of the Fraternity at the opening of the scholastic year 1910-11, as shown in this edition, is 10,912, of whom 9,602 are living and 1,310 are dead.

They shall also conduct, or cause to be conducted, annual oral examinations in each chapter in their respective provinces on the ritual, constitution, statutes, by-laws, and history of the Fraternity.

ARTICLE XIII.—ACTIVE CHAPTERS AND REGULATIONS REGARDING MEMBERSHIP IN THE FRATERNITY

SECTION 1. Active chapters shall be composed of white, male students in the respective colleges and universities where the said chapters are located or in affiliated institutions, or resident alumni or former members re-elected to active membership by the said chapters; provided, that the proposed admission to membership of a student in an affiliated institution shall in all cases be made a matter of special sanction by the Executive Committee. No student shall be considered for membership in the Sigma Chi Fraternity who is not of good moral character, and maintains an honorable standing in scholarship.

SEC. 3. Membership in the Sigma Chi Fraternity shall be confined to those who have been regularly initiated by an active chapter in accordance with the provisions of the ritual and ritualistic statutes, and no one shall be elected to honorary membership; provided, that in case a local society is absorbed as an active chapter by the Sigma Chi Fraternity its alumni shall be eligible to membership and may become members upon being duly initiated in accordance with the provisions of the ritual and ritualistic statutes.

SEC. 4. No one shall be admitted as a member of the Sigma Chi Fraternity except by a unanimous vote of the members of the active chapter to which he may be proposed.

SEC. 5. No member of the Sigma Chi Fraternity may become a member of any other fraternity of the same general character.

SEC. 6. No person shall be eligible to membership in the Sigma Chi Fraternity who is, or has been, a member of any other college fraternity of like character, except it be established that his connection with such fraternity has been honorably severed.

SEC. 7. No member of the Sigma Chi Fraternity can sever his connection therewith by resignation or otherwise; but charges of wrongful conduct involving moral turpitude, or disloyalty to the Fraternity, or of conduct unworthy a member may be made upon a three-fourths vote of the active chapter of which the individual charged is, or may have been, a member, by filing with the Executive Committee a report of the case with a full statement setting forth the reasons and grounds for taking the action. In the event of failure on the part of an active chapter to take up a case involving any or all of the foregoing elements, the Executive Committee may by a unanimous vote expel; only, however, after an opportunity has been given for a full hearing; provided, that the accused member shall have the right to appeal on error to the Grand Council.

SEC. 8. In case charges are filed under the foregoing section (7), the Executive Committee shall appoint two alumni of the chapter of which the accused is a member to act with the Grand Praetor of the province as judges in a trial of the accused to be held before the active chapter having made charges. In case a majority of the three judges find the accused guilty they shall enter a sentence of expulsion against him and report the same to the Executive Committee. Either the prosecution or defense shall have the right of appeal to the Executive Committee, with the right of error proceedings to the Grand Council.

SEC. 9. Members of the Fraternity may have their membership transferred to any active chapter upon such conditions and in such manner as may be prescribed by the by-laws of the chapter to which the member may be transferred.

SEC. 10. HISTORICAL SKETCH OF THE FRATERNITY

The Sigma Chi Fraternity was founded on June 28, 1855, at Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, where sixteen years before Beta Theta Pi had been organized, and Phi Delta Theta likewise in 1848. These three fraternities have sometimes been called the "Miami Triad."

The founders of Sigma Chi were Thomas Cowan Bell, James Parks Caldwell, Daniel William Cooper, Benjamin Piatt Runkle, Isaac M. Jordan, Franklin Howard Scobey, and William Lewis Lockwood, the last three of whom are deceased. The Fraternity had its inception in the face of eighteen rival organizations of national strength then occupying the field at Miami. It was a bold stand taken by the seven founders and their ideals are thus characterized in the Catalogue of 1890:

The confidence of the founders of Sigma Chi was based upon a belief that the principles which they professed and the idea of fraternity which they sought were but imperfectly realized in the organizations by which they were surrounded. The establishment of Sigma Chi was a protest against artificiality and pretense, a plea for personal independence and for congeniality and genuine friendship as the only natural basis of association in a college brotherhood.

It was a repudiation of the theory that would subordinate fraternity to strength of organization, or to numbers, or to any form of undergraduate ambition. The standard with which the fraternity started at the beginning was declared by Isaac M. Jordan to be that of admitting no man to membership who was not believed to be a man of good character, of fair ability, of ambitious purposes, and of congenial disposition. It was established upon no narrow ideal of manhood, but upon the principle that true strength lies on a well-rounded and symmetrical development of individual character.

The early measures taken for extension indicated that the founders intended the new fraternity to be more than local in its sphere of action. At the Ohio Wesleyan University on December 24, 1855, the second chapter of the Fraternity was established and was called Gamma.

The Fraternity first bore the name of Sigma Phi, but its organization at Miami had not been kindly received by its rivals there, and in January, 1856, the Fraternity constitution and other archives of Alpha Chapter were stolen. Soon thereafter in a meeting between Alpha Chapter and a delegate from Gamma a new constitution was drafted and the Fraternity was given the name of Sigma Chi.

The Fraternity's next chapter, the original Epsilon, was organized at the University of Nashville in May, 1856. It was short-lived, and for reasons unknown its dissolution followed some time in the next year.

Alpha and Gamma had maintained the most intimate and cordial relations and these two chapters held the first convention at Cincinnati on June 28, 1857, the second anniversary of the founding of the Fraternity. The success of the meeting, with its excellent literary features, inspired its members with confidence and enthusiasm, and in the following two years, Eta, Iota, and Lambda chapters were added to the roll. Alpha disbanded, however, in the summer of 1858, due to the graduation of its strongest members and at the second biennial convention, April 27, 1859, at Delaware, Ohio, Gamma was designated as the Parent Chapter and was given the general direction of the governmental affairs of the Fraternity.

In the several succeeding years before the Civil War six more chapters were established, and

When the storm broke over the land and scattered the college boys of both contending sections, ten chapters answered to the roll of the Fraternity. Pennsylvania, with three flourishing chapters, was the stronghold of the order. Indiana followed with two chapters, and Ohio, Mississippi, South Carolina, Tennessee, and Virginia were each represented on the list. Starting in Ohio the Fraternity had extended with impartial steps in each direction of the compass. Three states had been invaded on the east—Pennsylvania, Virginia, and South Carolina. Three states had been invaded on the west—Indiana, Tennessee, and Mississippi. If six of its ten chapters were in the North, four of the seven states that had welcomed the wearers of the White Cross were south of Mason and Dixon's line; and sectionalism was the last criticism that could have been made upon the Fraternity.

The Third Grand Chapter of the Fraternity convened at Wheeling, W. Va., on April 17, 1861, the day before Virginia passed the ordinance of secession, and it is significant that in this time of great national excitement and intense sectional feeling representatives were present from all but two chapters—Pi and original Sigma. The boys of Pi Chapter had already enlisted in the southern army, and the delegate from Eta had scarcely left Wheeling on his return to his home in Mississippi before the lines were closed.

The war record of Sigma Chi with its story of boyish heroism and fraternal loyalty is most inspiring. Of special interest is the organization in the dark days of 1864 of the celebrated Constantine Chapter, the most unique fraternal group ever gathered together, and one unparalleled in the history of any other fraternity. This chapter was composed of several Sigma Chis who were serving in the army of the Tennessee division of the Confederate forces under General Joseph E. Johnson, the purpose being to perpetuate the Fraternity in the South, whatever the outcome of the war. Elaborate organization was impracticable, but two initiations were held, and the chapter continued active until the army disbanded.

In the North the colleges had not entirely suspended, and all but one of the northern chapters continued active. In fact, four new chapters were established before the close of the conflict. A vigorous policy of extension and re-establishment of southern chapters wherever possible was carried out immediately after peace was restored. Psi and Eta chapters were revived, and it is worthy of note that both sent delegates to the Sixth Grand Chapter held at Washington on December 27, 1866. The resumption of fraternal relations at this time between the brothers from contending sections of the country was indeed remarkable, and extended notices of the convention were given by the daily press.

By 1870 a total of twenty-two chapters had been started and this roll was almost doubled in the next decade. The old institutions in the South slowly resumed activity, and during the period from 1870 to 1880 Sigma Chi placed chapters in ten of them.

From the outset the Grand Chapters of the Fraternity have, with one or two exceptions, been held biennially and in several instances special conventions have met.

Blue and gold were adopted as the Fraternity colors in 1870. In 1872, the first Catalogue appeared, a 64-page folio with 1,069 names, followed five years later by the beautiful Catalogue of 1876 which was published under the direction of Phi Chapter. The Fraternity's membership was given at that time as 1,750. The present roll of forty-two alumni chapters had its beginning in the Alpha Alumni Chapter at Springfield, Ohio, in 1874.

Late in the seventies the attention of the fraternity world was drawn to the contest over the legal rights of college fraternities between Delta Delta Chapter at Purdue University and the authorities of that institution. The result of the long struggle of six years was the vindication of the rights of Sigma Chi before the Indiana Supreme Court. This judicial determination had a most important bearing upon the attitude of college authorities toward fraternities in all parts of the country. It may be added that when President White of Purdue University resigned in 1883, he was succeeded by a Sigma Chi, James H. Smart of Xi Chapter.

During these years Gamma had continued as the Parent Chapter and executive head of the Order, but for some time previous to 1882 there had been an agitation for a change in the system of fraternity government, and in that year an Executive Council was created to supersede largely the Parent Chapter as the executive body. In the Grand Chapters of 1882 and 1884 the constitution was subjected to radical revision and the basis of our present form of government was adopted and put into operation. This step marked a new epoch in the history of Sigma Chi. A Grand Council was created to which was confided the management of the affairs of the Fraternity during the intervals between the biennial sessions of the Grand Chapter. The Fraternity was divided into six provinces over each of which was placed a Grand Praetor. From 1882 begins the record of the Fraternity's Grand Officers.

The establishment of an official magazine was one of the most important events in the history of the Fraternity. The journal dates from the Sigma Chi, first issued as a bimonthly by Theta Chapter in 1880. The present form of the Sigma Chi Quarterly was adopted in 1887, and at the same time an absolutely new departure in college fraternity journalism appeared in the Bulletin, the first private periodical of this nature. Beta Chapter brought forth the first collection of songs in 1884. The later revised and enlarged editions of the song book have appeared in 1898, 1904, and 1909.

During the latter part of the eighties the efforts of the Fraternity were devoted principally toward the compilation and publication of an elaborate biographical catalogue. This appeared in the fall of 1890 under the title of The Sigma Chi Catalogue and History. Its 800 pages of chapter rolls, including an extended history of the Fraternity and a sketch of each college and chapter, with copious illustrations, made up a bulky volume which represented the most creditable type of fraternity catalogue-making then in vogue. The total membership was given as 3,879.

In 1890 the total of chapters established was 62, but 23 of them were at that time inactive, although of these 6 were later revived.

If the decade from 1880 to 1890 had for its distinguishing characteristic a thorough reorganization of the Fraternity, the period since then shows the development of the new system and the successful application of its methods of government. The Catalogue of 1890, though most satisfactory in itself, brought with it a heavy financial burden, the removal of which taxed the best energies of the governing body, but resulted during the next few years in the building-up of a financial system for Sigma Chi that is one of the best of college fraternities.

By the time of the special World's Fair convention at Chicago in July, 1893, the Grand Officers were able to report a prosperous condition throughout the Fraternity. Important remedial financial enactments were adopted at that time, and a final adjustment of the Catalogue debt was made.

The Cincinnati Grand Chapter in 1895 was marked by the establishment of the Chapter House Sinking Fund, later to be known as the Endowment Fund. This was a most important landmark in Sigma Chi history. The Railway Sinking Fund likewise had its inception at this time. A redistribution of the chapters into nine provinces was adopted. This convention also made arrangements leading up to the meeting of the "Put-in-Bay Committee," in 1896, which drafted a complete revision of the constitution; and at the Twenty-third Grand Chapter at Nashville in the next year the new constitution was formally adopted. Specific uses for the different funds were clearly defined. The Endowment Fund with provisions for enlarged receipts succeeded the Chapter House Sinking Fund. The Ritual was revised with painstaking care, and the whole organic structure of the Fraternity was put in such a form that until the last two years few changes have been necessary. This convention of 1897 adopted a coat-of-arms, selected the white rose as the Fraternity flower, and authorized a new catalogue. Incorporation under the legal title, "Grand Council of the Sigma Chi Fraternity" took place soon afterward under the laws of the State of Illinois.

The Endowment Fund had now reached a point where its benefits could actively be realized. On January 1, 1899, Theta Theta Chapter received a loan of $2,000, and within two years Alpha Phi Chapter was advanced $2,500. Since then loans have been made to a number of chapters engaged in building houses.

In the Grand Chapters of 1899 and 1901 the plan for alumni notes was worked out and a new official flag and pledge button adopted, and in August, 1901, appeared the Residence Directory, an octavo volume of 650 pages, showing the Fraternity's membership at that time to be 7,202.

Two years later the Detroit Grand Chapter created a board of five Grand Trustees to have general direction and control of the Endowment Fund.

The semi-centennial celebration of the Fraternity was held on June 28, 1905, and was the most significant feature of the Twenty-seventh Grand Chapter which met at Cincinnati, Ohio, at that time. The registered attendance of 456 marked the convention as the largest Grand Chapter ever held, and the observance of the fiftieth anniversary was an event most noteworthy in the Fraternity's history. The entire convention gathered at Oxford on the campus of "Old Miami" on June 28, the day of the golden anniversary. The presence of Thomas Cowan Bell, James Parks Caldwell, Daniel William Cooper, and Benjamin Piatt Runkle, the four surviving founders of the Fraternity, was indeed fitting, and their addresses were a part of the literary exercises of the day. A memorial tablet located in the University Chapel, was unveiled on this occasion and the addresses and other features of the day's programme together with many interesting illustrations have been preserved in a souvenir book published by the Grand Council soon thereafter.

At the close of a half-century the Fraternity's roll of chapters was 77, of which 54 were then active. Sixteen chapters owned their houses, the alumni chapters totaled 26, and the finances of the Fraternity had grown into very considerable proportions.

The succeeding Grand Chapter held at Jamestown in the summer of 1907 authorized the publication of a new directory. The matter of the revision of the Ritual was also taken up and referred to a special committee, and provision was at the same time made for reference of the revised document to the Grand Triumvirs upon whose approval and adoption it was to become operative.

The elaboration of plans for a fitting memorial to the founders had been intrusted to a special committee by the Cincinnati Grand Chapter of 1905, and the determination and report of this committee was for the co-operation of the Fraternity at large with Alpha Chapter in the erection of a Memorial Chapter House at Miami University. The Jamestown Convention accordingly appointed a committee to proceed with the plans and to raise the funds. This committee entered upon an active campaign and the project was given wide publicity within the circle of the Fraternity. The result of the labors of this committee as well as those of the committee on the revision of the Ritual were duly reported at the last national convention to which detailed reference will now be made.

The Twenty-ninth and most recent of Grand Chapters was held at the Auditorium Hotel, Chicago, Ill., June 29, 30, and July 1, 2, 1909. It was the fourth national gathering of the Fraternity to meet in that city, and it was one of the largest, most enthusiastic, and best entertained of the biennial meetings. Delegates were present and qualified from 55 of the Fraternity's then 59 active chapters, and of the 41 alumni chapters all but 9 were represented. Included in the registered attendance of 351, were 7 Past Grand Consuls, and Daniel William Cooper and Benjamin Piatt Runkle, two of the four surviving founders of the Fraternity.

The permanent organization of the convention was as follows: Consul, Hamilton Douglas, Beta 1883, Theta Theta 1887; Pro-Consul, John G. Randall, Alpha Zeta 1895; Annotator, Frank E. Smith, Omega 1909; Assistant Annotators, Absalom F. Bray, Jr., Alpha Beta 1910, and George L. DeLacy, Alpha Epsilon 1907; Custos, Clarence C. Hills, Eta Eta 1905; and Assistant Custos, Fred W. Sharman, Beta Epsilon 1909.

The detailed reports of the Grand Officers disclosed a most satisfactory condition of Fraternity affairs. The installation of Beta Epsilon Chapter at the University of Utah, August 22, 1908, and of Beta Zeta Chapter at the University of North Dakota, February 12, 1909, and the revival of Delta Chi Chapter at Wabash College, May 29, 1909, had brought the total of active chapters to 59. The total active membership of the chapters was shown to be 1,035, an average chapter membership of 17.5. Seven petitions for active chapters had been received during the preceding two years, three of which had been granted as noted above. Three chapters had acquired their own homes, making the number of chapter houses owned 22. While all the remaining chapters had quarters, 30 renting houses and 7 located in halls, 6 of them were reported as owning lots and contemplating building in the near future.

The roll of alumni chapters had increased by 9, the largest number ever established in the two-year interval between Grand Chapters and due in a large measure to the activity of Herbert C. Arms, the Grand Tribune. Charters had been granted to active and interested alumni in Harrisburg, Pa., July 26, 1907; Memphis, Tenn., October 8, 1907; Salt Lake City, Utah, June 16, 1908; Seattle, Wash., November 4, 1908; Missoula, Mont., March 2, 1909; Oklahoma City, Okla., March 16, 1909; Little Rock, Ark., April 20, 1909; Dayton, Ohio, June 8, 1909; and Madison, Wis., June 22, 1909. The record of dinners, meetings, and weekly luncheons in the alumni chapters showed a gratifying interest and activity.

Between the Twenty-eighth and Twenty-ninth Grand Chapters, Province Conventions had been held in all but the Second and Seventh Provinces.

The plans for the erection by the Fraternity of the Founder's Memorial House at Miami University had taken definite form and the campaign for funds had been carried on in a vigorous and effective manner by the committee appointed for that purpose at the Jamestown convention. Extensive circularization and the speaking tours of Grand Consul Alling and Past Grand Consul Nate had at the time of the Chicago Grand Chapter netted the enterprise in cash $5,837.44 (including a loan of $2,000 voted by the Grand Trustees) and $9,035.83 in notes, making the total assets $14,873.27, as against the sum of $20,000 considered necessary for the building of the house.

The Committee on the Revision of the Ritual composed of William A. Trimpe, James T. Harahan, Jr., William Heilman, George D. Harper, and Hamilton Douglas, had in three different meetings of several days each, together with Past Grand Consuls Nate, Ferris, and Brumback, and Grand Consul Alling, rewritten the Ritual and added much to its beauty and effectiveness. The revised document had been submitted to the Grand Triumvirs and was adopted by them after its successful exemplification at the time of the last Grand Chapter, and was declared then and there to be in force.

The new Manual and Directory authorized at the Jamestown Convention had been compiled and edited by Grand Historian

Fred A. Perine under the direction of the Grand Council, and had appeared at the close of the year 1908. It was a neat volume of 482 pages and a distinct departure from the style of the Fraternity's previous directories. The membership was shown to be 10,066.

A new edition of the Song Book had likewise been issued and also a song pamphlet containing a selection of fraternity songs for use at banquets. The other Fraternity publications, the Quarterly and the Bulletin, were favorably reported upon and commendatory comment was made upon the growing tendency of the chapters to issue annual chapter bulletins.

In the matter of the Fraternity's finances the Grand Quaestor's report showed the total receipts of the preceding two years to be $38,023.33; the disbursements amounted to $24,966.58, and there remained a cash balance of $13,056.75. During this interval one loan from the Endowment Fund of $2,000 had been made to Lambda Chapter. This fund, which is kept separate from the other moneys of the Fraternity, has to its credit total assets amounting to $18,659.57 of which sum $9,359.57 was in cash and the balance in loans outstanding and distributed among six chapters, then enjoying the benefits of the fund. In addition the Grand Quaestor reported unpaid alumni notes aggregating about $20,000.

In the business sessions of the 1909 Chicago Grand Chapter disposition was made of matters of very considerable moment. The Constitution was amended in several radical and important respects. The Grand Triumvirs were supplanted by an Executive Committee, to consist of five members of the Grand Council, and to which was given the executive control and direction of the affairs of the Fraternity. The former geographical division of the Fraternity into nine provinces was entirely altered and ten provinces were established. The method of granting charters was changed so that the default of a chapter in voting is no longer considered as an affirmative vote, but the requisite three-fourths vote must now be actually cast. The charter and installation fee of new chapters was raised and revision was made in the method of expulsions. A new apportionment of revenues to the various funds of the Fraternity was worked out and alumni chapters were for the first time charged with annual dues of $10.00.

Regarding the Founders' Memorial House project the Grand Chapter appointed a Building Committee authorized to proceed with the erection of the house. This committee was composed of Howard Ferris, Malcolm McAvoy, Orville S. Brumbach, William A. Trimpe, and Will L. Stubbs. A Publicity Committee consisting of Joseph C. Nate, Charles Alling, Jr., and Will L. Stubbs was retained to continue the campaign for funds.

Provision was made for the publication of the present edition of the Manual and Directory, and a resolution was adopted directing the compilation of historical records and illustrative material to be published in book form by Past Grand Consul Nate.

The need for improved methods in bookkeeping and maintenance of records in the chapters had been the subject of discussion in several Province Conventions and as a result of these and other similar observations the Grand Chapter empowered the Executive Committee to formulate and prepare for the chapters a uniform system of financial accounting and chapter records and to inaugurate for the general Fraternity a revised system of bookkeeping.

At this convention charters were granted to two groups of petitioners, the first at the Case School of Applied Science and Western Reserve University, Cleveland, Ohio, and the other at the University of Pittsburgh, Pittsburgh, Pa.

The Grand Officers elected to compose the Grand Council for the ensuing two years were the following: Grand Consul, George Ade, Delta Delta 1887; Grand Quaestor, William V. Brothers, Omega 1906; Grand Annotator, Bertram F. Adams, Alpha Lambda 1902; Grand Tribune, William A. Trimpe, Alpha 1908; Grand Editor, Newman Miller, Alpha Pi 1893; Grand Historian, Earl D. Hostetter, Omicron Omicron 1907; Grand Praetors: First Province, Lloyd E. Johnson, Phi Phi 1907; Second Province, John R. Tucker, Alpha Omicron 1898 and Zeta 1900; Third Province, Clarence C. Hills, Eta Eta 1905; Fourth Province, William Heilman, Omega 1903; Fifth Province, Charles F. Roby, Omicron ever given to progressive action, is today engaged in many interesting and worthy enterprises. The publications, the building of chapter houses, and the supervision of an elaborate financial system have made the national organization of the Fraternity one of administrative detail. Its usefulness is being further extended by a growing policy of regulation over active chapters in matters of scholarship and moral conduct as well as in securing uniform systems of operation. The Fraternity's service as a national organization has long since justified its founding fifty-five years ago, and its activity and strength today are indicative of the revelation of chapters in its history to be written in years to come.
